To Whom It May Concern:

After years of dealing with multiple vendors for different products and services it is always nice to find people you can trust. Donald Martin and I have worked together on different services over the past several years and maintained a positive working relationship. He is always eager to help and very trustworthy in all he does.

Don is a hard working individual that always puts forward the extra effort to ensure his clients are taken care of.

Sincerely,

Shon B. Myers
President & CEO
